Parkinson's Awareness Week 2015 (20-26 April) is all about getting everyone to be a whole lot friendlier. Will you 'up your friendly'?

Holding open a door or a little patience in a long queue can brighten up someone's day. But for people with Parkinson's, it can make all the difference.

Carolyn Dailey Director says

"I am proud to be supporting Parkinson's awareness week. We are encouraging our team along with anyone else who would like to pledge on our very own pledge wall various ways to support people with Parkinson's. This can just be simply holding a door open or giving up a seat. All of our team have been given the something to say pin badge's to show their support"
